

Custom Toolkits

Educating tomorrow's Skilled Trades is only half of the battle. Most employers expect new graduates to not only be trained on the industry required tools but also have their own tools for the job. The best way to ensure that your students are educated and equipped for their career is first hand experience with the best tools and knowledge. Microtek is the preferred provider of custom assembled Skilled Trades toolkits for programs of all sizes throughout North America. We provide industry-leading tools and hardware from manufacturers like Klein, Dewalt, UEI, Stanley, Testo, Fieldpiece and others, assuring you and your students the best quality and performance. We purchase in volume from all manufacturers so that we can always offer the best tool at an amazing value to all of our clients, regardless of the size or frequency of their program.

About Company

Microtek builds toolkits and technology bundles for schools throughout North America. We are a one stop shop for all tools and technology needs as well as support. We customize each kit based on the needs of the specific programs and offer products from all major manufacturers at special education industry discounts. Our prices allow for the highest quality products to fit into the tightest budgets.

With Microtek, schools don't have to tarnish the quality of the education being provided with low quality tools or technology products.

Custom Technology Deployment

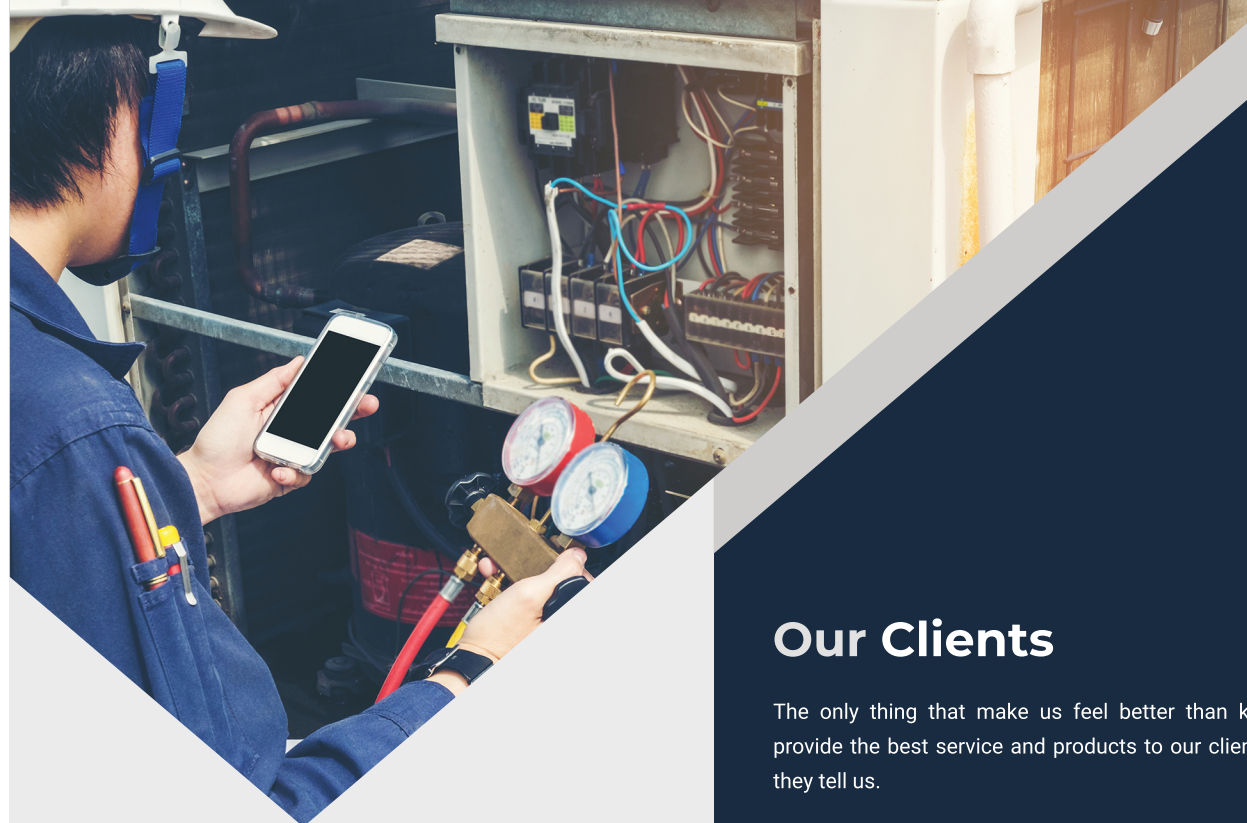

Prepare your students for success and provide one common device for all students. Microtek will help you find the best PC, at the best value, and customize it to meet the exact needs of your school or a specific program within your school.

Worried about IT Support?

Your students need their PC to complete their education and Microtek will support them while they are actively enrolled at your school. We build custom solutions into all our technology and work to ensure students are always equipped and able to complete their program while at your school.

Don't have it in the budget?

We deal directly with the largest computer manufacturers in the world to get the best available prices for educational institutions. These discounts result in Microtek being able to deliver and support a customized computer at a price to fit your budget.

Technology Management

Microtek can remove the burden of daily helpdesk support and PC image management from in-house IT departments or replace the need for in-house IT, altogether.

We can provide everything you need to outfit and support your entire IT infrastructure. We distribute all major computer manufacturers and offer IT solutions for everything from Internet Access Point and Cloud Data Storage to Managed Print Services and Network Servers.

Whether you need a new source for affordable technology, or you need a full-service IT solution, we have what you need.

Our Clients

The only thing that make us feel better than knowing we provide the best service and products to our clients, is when they tell us.

DeHart HVAC

"They helped us customize, not just a bag and the tools inside, but an effective way to start our students off on the right foot."

—DAMON FUGETT, ASSOC DIRECTOR

Spartan College of Aeronautics and Technology

"Microtek is a one-stop shop for our tooling, computers, textbooks, and curriculum content uploads. The Microtek team is quick to help if our students have issues or concerns and creative enough to make changes as our operations continue to evolve."
